EMERGING NAGPUR

Nagpur is known as the “Orange City” and is the winter capital of Maharashtra. It is the third largest city in Maharashtra and the 9th largest urban conglomeration in India.

Located on the banks of the river Nag, the city lies precisely at the centre of the country.

Already an important hub in Central India due to its many national level education, scientific and government institutions, Nagpur is poised to become a key logistics and commercial hub in the near future due to the upcoming Multi-modal International Passenger and Cargo Hub (MIHAN). It will also play a key role in shaping the growth and development of our nation, particularly Central India. Several companies from diverse sectors such as IT-ITeS, aircraft engineering and logistics have taken up land in the SEZ. As a major production and trading centre for oranges, Nagpur has now matured into an important industrial centre.

Housing in Nagpur has now evolved from independent houses to integrated townships and apartment projects. Small shops and retail streets are now also giving way to larger malls that offer everything under one roof. With several established players taking note of the steady growth of Nagpur and the opportunity this presents, the city is set to enjoy some world class developments.

Rich in cultural ethos and diversity, the city is also home to many mosques and temples. The rich architectural heritage is evident at Deekshabhoomi, the hollow stupa is the largest dome shaped monument and an important place of Dalit - Buddhist movement. Nagpur is also famous for Saoji Varhadi, its distinctive spicy cuisine.
