GACHIBOWLI

The Smart Condominium

What is a Smondo?

The combination of smart design and efficient use of space makes for smart living at a smart price. A Smondo is distinct. It is a solution that caters to detailed living needs. It is an answer to own your own home and a solution to long tiring commutes and high rents. Simply put, the Smondo is an efficient and functional home in a smart location, at a smart price.

“A Smondo brings greater efficiency into every single moment of my family’s daily life.”

Smart fact

The first Smondos in India came up at Neotown - Bangalore South. These are now complete and occupied. The project was completed ahead of schedule and earned rave reviews from buyers and industry alike.

More than buildings. Building brands.

We have been suspicious of the obvious, and look at our projects as brands that engage with our customers. We bring great benefits of scale and learning into each of our brand-extended projects and that value in turn creates delight for our customers.

Smart means success.

Questioning the obvious led to one thing after another. Smondos re-defined the way people looked at condominiums. Our townhomes were the first of their kind. Smart offices designed by us are helping organizations keep their workforce happy. Innovating is not a habit, but a way of life.

God truly is in the details.

We are obsessed with the finer things. Our project canvas is large, but our penchant for looking at the smaller details and executing them is creating genuine value for all our customers, investors and partners.
